It is recommended that all public health nurses and other staff providing shelter support consider taking all 3 online modules:

1. Shelter Fundamentals: v2 (03/24/2023) 1 hour; This is the same training module being presented to DSS for their non-medical shelter staff.
 - Shelter Fundamentals is a basic level course that introduces the guidelines and procedures for setting up, running, and closing a shelter during a disaster. Referencing shelter checklists, participants will work on a case study that takes them through four of the six phases of the Sheltering Process: Resourcing, Opening, Operating, and Closing.
2. Disaster Cycle Services: An Overview (03/24/2023) 25 minutes;
 - This course provides an overview of how Disaster Cycle Services (DCS) fulfills the Red Cross mission and describes the whole cycle process of helping individuals families and communities to prepare for, respond to, and recover from disasters. This course also reviews the role of community and government partners and describes opportunities for volunteers and disaster cycle services.

This course is a prerequisite for Disaster Health Services Fundamentals 1 and 2 training.

3. Disaster Health Services Fundamentals 1: (03/24/23) 1 hour;
 - The course is a basic-level, web-based course that provides participants with an inside look at the services that Health Services workers provide in supporting regional disaster responses.

The purpose of this course is to prepare participants to provide disaster health services that support regional disaster response. These services take place during preparedness and in support of disaster action teams and other regional responses.

4. Disaster Health Services Fundamentals 2: (3/24/23 1 hour)

- The course provides participants with an overview of the services that Health Services workers provide on a large-scale disaster response. Participants are required to take an assessment upon completion of the course and score an 80% or higher to earn a course certificate.

Additionally, there are 2 other courses to help public health nurses and shelter staff assist those with behavioral health and functional needs during a shelter response:

1. Psychological First Aid: Helping Others in Times of Stress;

- Psychological First Aid: Helping Others in Times of Stress is a basic-level web-based course that provides a framework for understanding the factors that affect stress responses in disaster relief workers and the clients they serve. The course introduces the principles of psychological first aid and guidelines for when to refer to a Disaster Mental Health worker. Participants engage in practice exercises and a review of the course content.

2. Everyone Is Welcome: (3/24/23) 20 minutes;

- Everyone is Welcome is a basic instructor-led and web-based course that informs the learner about the Red Cross commitment to excellent service delivery to individuals with access and functional needs, including those with disabilities by inclusion and integration of their varied needs before, during, and after disasters. This course also provides tips for providing services to individuals with access and functional needs, including those with disabilities.

The purpose of this course is to describe the concept of providing services to all clients and staff in a manner that recognizes the needs of those with disabilities and other access and functional needs. These efforts promote inclusion of the whole community, so that everyone we serve, and all those we serve with, will feel welcome in all our service delivery and work site.
